

Meet the team

CEO - Christopher Kelly.

Originally from Dublin, Ireland, Christopher has worked with motors and machinery for over two decades. From running his own mechanics shop, his own vehicle conversion company, and his own food truck you would be hard-pressed to find a motor that Christopher hasn't personally laid his hands on. Outside of work, Christopher has a lifelong passion for cars, bikes, vans and even boats.

Head of Advertising, Communications and Sales - Ryan O'Rourke.

Born in London but raised in Ireland, Ryan started his career in sales where at the young age of 19 he led a sales team that covered the entire Republic of Ireland. After a career change, Ryan moved into journalism, where he specialised in crime. In more recent years, Ryan has worked in Public Relations for some of the biggest financial companies in the world as well as the Mongolian Prime minister. Utilising this experience Ryan can help guarantee customer satisfaction and safety while simultaneously proving the expertise to ensure smooth and satisfactory sales.
